

Senior Systematic Reviewer

The company: Abacus International is a healthcare consultancy specialising in evidence-based medicine and health economics. We conduct systematic reviews of the clinical literature, assessing the strength of the evidence supporting new health technologies. We also have an excellent reputation in the conduct of health technology assessments (HTAs) for bodies such as NICE and the SMC who have a remit to assess new products in the UK.

The role: Assisting the Associate Director for Systematic Reviews, you will conduct and supervise systematic reviews from design, development of protocol, data collection and synthesis, to meta analysis and report writing. A high degree of client interface is expected, including attending of project and business development meetings. This position is based at our Head Office in Bicester.

The person: This will require a candidate with a minimum of 2 years experience of carrying out systematic reviews in an academic and/or commercial environment. We are looking for an organised individual with strong interpersonal and oral communication skills; the ability to deliver quality work under tight deadlines is essential.

Candidates will have a higher life sciences degree and relevant experience of working in the pharmaceutical industry, health service management or consultancy environments.

Abacus offers a generous package for the right individual including a competitive salary and bonus scheme, an excellent career path and extensive training opportunities.

Please note that you must be a UK/EU resident or if non resident you must hold a valid UK work permit.
